Eden Prairie, MN (April 18, 2009)— VendorClear, the company who pioneered Web-based vendor access services for healthcare facilities and their vendors, today announces the launch of its new corporate Website, www.vendorclear.com. Featuring a fresh, new professional design, updated layout and new content, the site serves as a credentialing and access control center for healthcare facilities and their vendors interested in VendorClear's services and new technologies, as well as an interactive portal for current VendorClear members.

“We are thrilled with the look and functionality of our new Website,” stated Mike Schreiber, VendorClear Founder & Managing Principal. Schreiber continued, “In addition to updating the content and layout of the site, we wanted the design to better align with our branding and marketing strategy to address the key needs of our target audience and growing client base.”

Recently having exceeded 700 healthcare facilities under contract, VendorClear hopes the new Website will not only offer its current clients a more convenient and easier to use access portal to its Web-based vendor services, but that it will also help the company continue to expand and further increase its client base. The Website was designed by Minnesota-based Internet marketing firm, TMA E-Marketing, who also optimized the site to drive targeted search traffic to the site and help VendorClear achieve a greater online presence.
